east business as usual

eastern shore businesses show a wow factor

The applicants for the City of Clarence Business Excellence and Service Awards deserve recognition for their amazing achievements.

The Chairman commented that the judges found it very difficult to choose winners from the diverse range of businesses that applied for the Awards in the various categories.

Clockwise from top: Greg Harvey from Eastside Activity Centre with John Beattie the Chairman of Business East. Stephen Hickman from Driftwood Restaurant and the Hon. Will Hodgman. Sam Cramer and Rosemary Kennedy from Eastside Lutheran College, with Martin Robinson from Veolia. Keren Franks from Young Leaders of Tasmania with the Hon. Will Hodgman. Amie Woolley and Anna Fay from Lindisfarne Village Pharmacy, with Courtney Telega from Accru Hobart.

Winner of the Chairman's Award was Greg and Felicity Harvey from "Eastside Activity Centre" in Rokeby.

We understand that it was Greg's dream when he was 8 years old to have a business such as this. They have invested millions $'s in their infrastructure for the communities benefit. They conduct activities such as gymnastics, trampoline, rhythmic gymnastics, tumbling, ninja warriors plus more.

Their motto. It is not about champions. It is about "sport for fun sport for all."

Left to right from top left: Sanjaya Karunathilake, from Travelodge Hobart Airport and the Hon. Will Hodgman. Emma King and Lisa Morgan from Creating Cakes, with the Hon. Jacque Petrusma MP. Robert Clark from Glebe Hill Family Practice with the Hon. Will Hodgman. Corie Wilcock and Nicole Smith from Sideline Espresso with the Hon. Jacque Petrusma MP. Lauren Booth, from Allure by the Bay Hairdressing and the Hon. Jacque Petrusma MP. Emma Henderson from Hair Magix and the Hon. Jacque Petrusma MP. Business east inc. In conjunction with the howrah rotary club inc. Conducted simulated interviews at eastside lutheran college

Personal interviews were recently conducted with a group of students from Eastside Lutheran College by Howrah Rotarians and Business East to give the students an insight into preparing themselves for employment interviews.

Employment opportunities at a diverse range of industries were discussed and the feedback from the interviewers was that the students grew in confidence as they progressed through the interview.

This should place them in good stead in gaining employment in the future.

The Board of Management and staff of Business East wish everyone a very Merry Christmas and a Prosperous New Year
